Hi [REDACTED]

Well it wasn't that good a week, I'm afraid. Below is my report to shareholders and notes on a shareholder resolution together with the relevant board minutes.

I would be very grateful if the documents in the letter to shareholders could be signed and returned to me.

If you require any more information let me know and also whether I need to do anything via the portal.

Dear shareholders

As you may recall in my last note to you in July, I warned that we did not have enough cash to get us to the end of the year.

Earlier this month the board concluded that since we had been unable to raise the required funds we should appoint a specialist firm to advise us, Leonard Curtis – they concluded that the business would be insolvent unless additional funds were raised immediately and put the business into an accelerated mergers and acquisitions process. While this attracted some keen interest we were unable to secure a buyer for the company as a going concern and while we continue with discussions I am afraid that they and the board have concluded that the business cannot continue trading. We therefore propose to put it into insolvency.

We do have an interested party who is prepared, subject to a number of conditions, to acquire some of the assets of the company. This would enable The New Craftsmen brand to continue serving its original purpose of supporting the British maker community. It is not a certainty that such a transaction will go through but Leonard Curtis are working on it. So, it remains possible that, in some form the business may continue with new owners but I am afraid this is the end of our road together.

I want to thank you all for your support over the past 10 years. The New Craftsmen has remained a small company but one with a superb reputation and one that has helped change the perception of craft – we have built a loyal, international client base, worked in partnerships with major brands (Burberry & Selfridges for instance) and have shaped and accelerated the trajectory of 100s of makers' careers; and we have created fulfilling jobs for the superb cohort of people who have worked for and with us.

In the mean-time some big-hitters have moved into the space – [REDACTED]

While we went into this with the aim of making it a sustainable and profitable business, there was also a strong philanthropic side to most of our investors. They like us believed this was something worth doing.

And, as we move into insolvency there is one particular group of creditors that we do want to look after and that is the Makers – for whom this company was set up. The rules of insolvency demand that the Company treat all its creditors equally and, sadly we have built up debt which the business will almost certainly not be able to meet.

It is therefore our intention to ensure, as far as possible, that every Maker is paid fully and this will require us to build a fund to ensure this happens. While many of you may feel you have given enough already, we would really welcome your help here – particularly bearing in mind that this has been an SEIS/EIS qualifying investment. If you would be prepared to help please let me know and I will ensure we let you have details within the next few weeks.

I attach a copy of a board minute and a shareholder resolution which we would ask you consider and to sign.

If you are a small shareholder you are represented on our [REDACTED] who holds an [REDACTED] in the Company [REDACTED]). [REDACTED] be reached on this e-mail address and has very kindly offered to speak to shareholders with less than 160,000 shares (2.5%). He is an experienced investor and has been a director of The New Craftsmen since April 2019.

Once again, thank you for the 10 years of support and faith in our business and mission. We are proud of the legacy we have built and the craft market we have helped define; inspiring so many in how to live with craft in integral and beautiful ways.

With a heavy heart, on behalf of The New Craftsmen.

Dear [REDACTED],

Hope you are well. Following on from our call last week, we were just wondering if you have any further updates regarding the company's situation please? On our call, the latest updates were that you had appointed Leonard Curtis as an advisor to the company and that you had received 12 expressions of interest and would be reviewing them that day.

Thank you very much.

Dear [REDACTED]

Ref: A-0002479

Thank you for your email which we received on 29th January 2022.

There must be 4 custom KPIs entered to be allowed to continue (8 KPIs in total). Key staff appointments, key staff leavers, total number of customers and total unit sales are all mandatory KPIs so do not count towards the 4 custom KPIs you must enter.

You may be prompted to add another KPI at the bottom of the screen meaning the requirement has not been met. Once you have entered the 8 KPIs required (4 mandatory, 4 custom), you will be allowed to continue with the next pages of the submission.

We do recommend using the reporting guide to collate the information prior to entry onto the portal in case of any issues.

As you mentioned you may not have time this week to complete, we have extended the deadline date until 11th January 2022. Please aim to have it submitted by then.

If the problem persists, we recommend screenshotting the full page of each step with the answers completed so we can pass it to our tech team for review.

If you need further clarity on any of the above, please reply to this email and we will be happy to assist.

Kind regards,
Future Fund Customer Support Team

I yesterday completed my usual quarterly report which I checked before going on to a new section (new to me) – page 7 asking me to select KPI's which I did my best to complete but it kept asking me to add further ones (even though I had selected and completed as instructed.) and so I was unable to move to the next section. I then checked the support section to find I was directed back to re-start the whole (expletive deleted) report again.

I've now spent 2 hours on a Friday evening on this. I don't have time in the next week to go through the whole process again; nor am I willing to.

Could we please revert to the previous report format, and drop the KPI requirements; or at least get the process working properly.

Regards

Dear [REDACTED]

Subject - Financing Event within 6 months of conversion

Thank you for submitting a 'Conversion Event - Non-Qualified Financing' notification on 15 March 2022.

Can you please confirm if the shares issued with this financing event were ordinary shares, and also confirm that the pre-emption rights in clause 9 of the articles have been dealt with?

Many thanks

Dear Future Fund

Further to your note of 22/02, I apologise for my delay in replying.

In answer to your questions – see answers in red.

1. Details of any investment documents/heads of terms; See SHA into which TFF entered on 26/11/21. That agreement permitted us to issue further ordinary shares by the end of March and it is those shares we are now intending to see if any of our shareholders wish to take up (and to see if others who are not yet shareholders wish to invest if existing shareholders do not wish to take up the whole number available.)
2. SHA/Articles if being amended for the round. If so please also include tracked changes from the versions viewed by FF at the conversion event; No amendments
3. If the share class is more senior please can you also provide documentation dealing with the issue of more senior shares to UK FF Nominees Limited; It is not
4. Post-completion cap table. See cap table attached as at end November (post conversion – columns highlighted in yellow). This also shows the intended position at the end of March '22 if the full quota of available shares is taken up (highlighted in pink).

We look forward to hearing from you with the above information. Please be reminded should a more senior class of shares be issued upon the financing event we require notice of such financing event via the portal no later than 10 business days prior to completion pursuant to clause 8) d). There are no shares proposed to be issued with better rights than the shares FF has and this I assume this is not required.

Best wishes

Dear [REDACTED],

Application reference: A-0003479

We note that you have reported a financing event within 6 months of FF conversion as part of your latest Ongoing Reporting submission.

We note that the financing event is within 6 months of the Future Fund conversion and as such is subject to Clause 8) d).

Please can you submit notification of the event on the Future Fund portal via the "Notify Us" section as Finance Event within 6 months.

On your notification please confirm whether the shares to be issued to investor(s) rank senior to the shares issued to UK FF Nominees Ltd on conversion.

Please can you also provide the following documentation for our review to confirm the above statement:

1. Details of any investment documents/heads of terms;
2. SHA/Articles if being amended for the round. If so please also include tracked changes from the versions viewed by FF at the conversion event;
3. If the share class is more senior please can you also provide documentation dealing with the issue of more senior shares to UK FF Nominees Limited;

Hi [REDACTED]

Well it wasn't that good a week, I'm afraid. Below is my report to shareholders and notes on a shareholder resolution together with the relevant board minutes.

I would be very grateful if the documents in the letter to shareholders could be signed and returned to me.

If you require any more information let me know and also whether I need to do anything via the portal.
