MICROSOFT LICENSE STATEMENT LIMITATIONS

The Microsoft License Statement is based on the set of agreements associated with the organization as summarized on the Organization Summary tab and as listed on the License Agreements tab. It is important to verify the lists of the Organization Summary tab and on the License Agreements tab to ensure that the relevant information is included.

- The Microsoft License Statement only contains information for Microsoft licenses acquired through volume licensing programs and does not reflect information for licenses acquired via retail and/or Original Equipment Manufacturer (OEM)
- Licenses acquired in the last 45 days may not be included in this license statement, due to reseller reporting time frames.
- Microsoft records license transfers in hardcopy format only (e.g. transfers as a result of a merger/acquisition). For this reason, if transfers have occurred, they may not be reflected in this Microsoft License Statement.

- Enterprise Agreements can be complex and are calculated using standard assumptions that may not apply to every situation. Enterprise Agreements with non-standard terms and conditions may require additional review by a Microsoft representative.
